Your Excellency!

First and foremost, I would like to send you my warmest regards and wish you Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year. During these last days of 2025 I want to take an opportunity to express my sincere gratitude for your steadfast commitment and continued support for Ukraine in its struggle against Russian aggression. Ukraine deeply values the solidarity demonstrated by your country and its leadership at this most challenging period.

As the winter period progresses, the Russian Federation continues to conduct intensive air attacks against Ukraine's civilian population and critical infrastructure, particularly energy generation, heating, and water supply facilities. These attacks are deliberately designed to deprive civilians of basic services during the cold season and to create a large-scale humanitarian crisis leaving millions of people without light and heat in cold winter season. They not only cause damage to the infrastructure, but are destructive of the daily reality of millions of civilians – families, children, elderly people – facing winter conditions without electricity, heating, or water. Under such circumstances, air defence becomes not only a military necessity, but a humanitarian imperative.

The delivery of air defense AMRAAM missiles AIM-9X, AIM-120, Patriot PAC3 and air-to-air AIM-9M, AIM-9L helped us to minimize the consequences.

In this context, I would respectfully request your kind assistance in raising this urgent matter with the Minister of Defence and the Commander-in-Chief of the Armed Forces of your country, with a view to exploring the possibility of transferring air-defence and air-to-air missiles, in particular missiles of the AIM family, to Ukraine.

H.E. Ms. Mei Li Vos
President of the Senate of the Kingdom of the Netherlands
Hague

Even a limited number of such missiles would have an immediate and tangible effect, enabling Ukraine to intercept incoming threats, reduce civilian casualties, and preserve essential infrastructure during the winter period.

Furthermore, I would sincerely appreciate your consideration of any opportunities to accelerate delivery timelines. Under the current circumstances, time is a decisive factor – delays directly translate into increased risks for the civilian population.

Given the exceptional urgency of the situation, I would be grateful for your response at your earliest convenience.

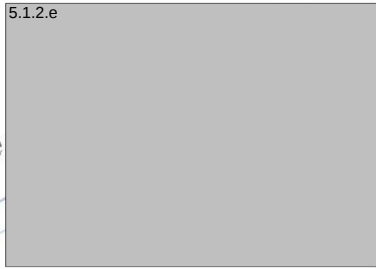

Allow me to once again reiterate Ukraine's deep appreciation for your continued support and solidarity. Your leadership and engagement are essential for protecting civilian lives and upholding shared humanitarian values.

Please accept, Your Excellency, the assurances of my highest consideration.

Sincerely,

Chairman of the
Verkhovna Rada of Ukraine
